

RESP

21/11/1887

DUNSDEN VICARAGE,

READING.

Sunday evening
Nov 6. 1887

Dear Madam

I do not know if this letter will ever reach you, and should it do so you will find that I am a total stranger to you, but I owe you so much gratitude for your book "Home Education" that I have long felt I must some day try to elp2pneu8

Thank you for it. I heard of the book through a notice in the Spectator, and got it early in this past most beautiful summertime. I have read & re-read it so many times, that much of it is a possession for life, and I can most truly say that it has given me inspiration, strength of purpose, guidance and courage which has made a real difference to me in health. I never ilp3pneu8

remember feeling so light hearted and joyous as after reading some of its chapters last summer holidays - and I cannot but think it may be a pleasure to you to know this -

I have 8 children between the ages of three and thirteen, and the problems of life & education are very hard to solve some.

times - we are far away from

21p4pneu8

High Schools, and many modern advantages ^{are} quite out of our reach, but your book has made me feel what can be aimed at and accomplished in "Home Education" - and every hour of the day I try how near I can come to your ideal. My little twins of 4½ and each of the others in turn are "chapters" of it in my mind.

If this ever reaches you I hope you will forgive the liberty I have taken.

Yours truly

Manly L. Hart-Davis

21 p 11 8

DUNSDEN VICARAGE,
READING.

Nov 12. Sunday
1887.

Dear Madam

I do not know how to tell you what a pleasure your most kind reply to my letter has given me. Your words make me feel more than ever how much there is that we should have in common.

изреченіе could we ever meet - but you are far away, and you live, I am sure, as your Educational Union proves among many people deeply in earnest on the subjects I care most about.

I on the contrary seldom meet an "answering mind." That is partly why your book awakes such a world of thoughts in me, I

8p3pneu8

had struggled alone after all these things, with few teachers except those of my childhood. My Father Sir Thomas Acland with the Bishop of London first organized the Oxford Local Examination movement & he laid the founda-tion of almost all I know.
My Mother who is 81 has read your book & discussed it with me with deep interest.

izp4pneu8

I think I must send you a photograph taken quite lately of our "eight" - & tell you their names. It has always been my habit to keep accurate accounts of my childrens progress, and a sentence in your book made me begin a new volume devoted entirely to "the twins" education.
As you ask to know more about them I think I will send it you, and if I send that I

25pneu8

DUNSDEN VICARAGE,

READING.

think I must send the earlier volumes also. There are such numbers of "illustrations" of your book in it. You will almost wonder perhaps that I can send such sacred records, but they will be perfectly safe registered, and your book has given me such an entrance to your mind that I am certain is p b p n e u 8

such a record is most valuable to you as a study. You can keep the whole packet two or three weeks, I shall not want it. The problem which occupies my mind most of all now is:- What are the relative values of Home and High School Education?
I see the merits of both very strongly. If we were within captivity easy distance of a high school I should have no doubt it was the best education - but we are $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Reading - and the "boarding out" system I cannot bring my mind to accept - besides wh. I suppose the expense ^{for 3 or 4 at once} is far beyond us.

So we go on with a German Governess whose general influence is quite excellent, and I try to supply all she does not possess.

But then I say to myself - exp8pneu8

some times "What if in after life the girls should desire definite careers? May they not then feel totally unequal to any thing like competition with others - altogether behind in any special subject - or will the general intelligence & width of mind caused by constant inter-course & conversation with their Father & me enable them to make up for what they otherwise -wise do not acquire" - I do find

12p9pneu8

DUNSDEN VICARAGE,
READING.

practically that they are ahead of other children in receptiveness - knowledge of the meanings of words - power to enter into any subject, politics, science or literature which may be talked of before them.
It does not pass them by, they come to me with numbers of questions to be answered. But put against this number of things they are not achieving which others are, and the scale is heavy on the other side.

No one governor can give all

Ediplopnus

one wants. One child with a special turn for figures is standing still at reduction at 12 years old for want of higher teaching, another with a turn for drawing gets no free hand training for the eye.
Another at 9 years old has not begun french. Theory of music history, botany, can only be done "when mother has time"^x —

Can these things ever be made up for in after life? How book I x and how can I be like a trained teacher) I feel utterly unequal to it all sometimes expensive

see concludes that girls as well as boys will go to school at 12. I have read & reread your ^{11th} chapter many times. I try to hope that we have many of your essentials, but I become ^{more} & more alive to the things we have not. The larger the family the greater the difficulty for the mother ^{and father} to supply all they want - and yet, the greater when they grow up the absolute importance that they should

is p12pneu2

each be "fit for something" -

I hope I have not wearied you.

Your kind letter encouraged me to write on. Do not please think of replying, at any rate until you have done with the books.

It is a joy to me to think I have the privilege of intercourse with you however rare.

I keep your interesting leaflet. I have not yet come across any thing like it in this part of the world.

Yours very truly J. L. Hunt Davis

Singh K. L. 1890 13 pipneus 1590

+

Oct 1. 18
11.10 PM

Dear Mr. Mason

Thank you for the paper - putting in a little more Lear - and agrees

Early tomorrow

The date fixed for the meeting here will never be - Patti
comes in a concert,

23p3pneu8

And he would - or at least his wife - will be there! Will not Monday do? You could come some on Wednesday, could you not?

We shall have our half-ten holiday on the following Monday, or you will not see us Thursday or Friday

23p3pneu8

day, but will you not come to see for Wednesday with Saturday -
I may be going away Wednesday, or if not on Monday - I shall have Melcher of both with me with us, &
some others -

I enclose a notice - about my papers to Mr. Sumner & Mr. Parker,

isp4pneu8

and he has aggravated me by making out that I think all teachers right opposite wrong - liberty the passage for me content - there showe perfect and cheer - a lady who said they high in dutie 521 me of harker created guide a sensible people sent it her to make her not to send her dampness - she suggested don't write this - said ispisneus

P.S. I send you the article, because I have marked a few things in lead, which I would consent to have cut out, if you like - I have cut out some passages, so I could not consent to more,

isppneus

because it would be of no use, but would rather it were not mentioned at all

isppneus

Will you not ask Archdeacon Robert for his Church Compendium
paper?

89. J. Russell S.
W.C.

267. 1950
with 100 years ago

Feb. 19th - 91

My dear Chip Mason
Many thanks for yours, but it's too provoking altogether to think we were so near seeing you & missed. You wd just love my baby. She is so cuddly & sweet, & plump, & perfectly good, & bright, so intelligent & responsive, in fact as George puts it, "a delicious little thing!"

I am telling you all this to show you what you have missed, & to make you more careful the next time you get into a bus to come & see me.
Baby's name is Laura Katharine Anna. (the first & last by request) She sleeps all night, & all the morning to my great joy, so that lessons have only to be shortened by one hour on her account It's so pretty to see the others with her. George is careful about her character. "Hope we shall not sport her with too much petting."

The shortcoating this week was a sort of family festival. Today, alas, was the vaccination which both husbands & I detest, but are afraid to neglect, till a better way is found. I am one of the fortunate mothers - able to nurse my baby.

& we have some happy times together through the day. When I must sit down & be quiet, & can indulge in day-dreams (I think her head is mathematical) & thoughts of my friends. I think the lessons go on well. The arithmetic is a great pleasure to us all & some friends who took the girls to Madame Tussauds were amazed at the living sort of interest the children had in the queens &c.

2.

14p5pne118

George learns to read (in spite of teaching. I always feel this!) & map work is a great joy but I think I have bothered you enough about my darlings, big & little.

but as you kindly ask I can't resist the temptation. just one thing more. I should be so much obliged if you could recommend me a grammar to teach them from. Mine is rusty. & I can't ^{find} find a book to help me that just suits.

Spent the writing for the Review, thank you very much for asking me. & I shall be very glad to do it. I don't quite understand about the shares. but that's sure to be all right, thank you.
If you could give me longer time for the

24 P 7 P 2118 first article I should be glad, but if it is needed at the end of the month I will set to work at once. I think I see what you mean about the French little plays. But ~~are~~^{is} there to be more than one in an article? e.g. is the "visit" to make an article of itself, or am I to expatiate first on the advantages of such plays & ^{then} give the outlines of say, half a dozen, all in one article? "Shopping", "dressing the baby", "the birthday", "the dolls' tea-party", "the walk in the fields or by the sea", would be the sort of subjects I suppose? I should like to let my little players "dress up" in the green bonnet", &c. This wd be a pure joy, & certain to make the game popular!

I have been wanting for some time to write you an article on "Nursery needlework". I have gained a good deal of practical experience by now in the matter, & ~~found~~^{find} it so well worth while to give a good deal of time and thought to all the little arrangements & details. The keeping of work box & contents in good order. finishing what has been begun, thought for others in making really useful little presents.

24 p 10 p neu 8
have all been ²⁰ educationally helpful. That I thought you might like a little paper on the subject.

With regard to Miss Gates of course I am only too pleased to do what I can. & I have asked her to come next Monday morning & will take her round. & I hope keep her to lunch after.

24 P11 pneu 8

But I must stop my long letter, & get on with my baby's bonnet.
Hoping you are feeling all the better for your Xmas holidays I write much love

Your affectionate
Frances Epps